

About Millstone Farm

Millstone Farm (www.millstonefarm.org) is a 71-acre family owned farm in Wilton, CT. We are a working farm with many different components including: diversified livestock, 3 acres of intensively produced crops, and an international level equestrian facility. We are focused on regenerative farming, educational opportunities, and innovative technologies that improve the health of our community, our animals, and our land. Our farmers are committed to strengthening ties between the surrounding community and our land through our Community Supported Agriculture program and partnerships with local markets, chefs, community organizations and non-profits.
